Let your colours bring Susie Jayasinghe's latest scene to life ... and don't forget to make a wish when you've finished ...

Things 4

It's late Spring or early Summer (you choose). The Magic River flows down through the fields, beneath the enchanted trees and on under the stone bridge...

Colour the picture, send it to us and you could win a prize. We'll print it in Vision if we have room. We'll return it if you send us a large letter stamp.

Can you write about Susie's Magic River? In 'The King of the Golden River' the water turns to gold for the kind young hero. What's your river made of?

Your story or poem could win a Shirley Conran Writing Award.
